... November 21 —Tabor's Grand ... opera house was crowded to night with ... the most brilliant audience ever ... assembled within its walls in honor of the ... opening performance of Louis James ... and Marie Wainwright. Mr. James and Miss Wainwright met with an enthusiastic reception. They were recalled several times after each act and magnificent floral tributes almost ... covered the stage. No such ovation ever ... took place before in the history of our ... stage. Mr. James and Miss Wainwright, ... who were surprised at the unbounded ... enthusiasm of the greeting, acted with ... great spirit and artistic excellence. The ... play was "Romeo and Juliet," in which ... both the stars have world wide fame. ... Miss Wainwright's Juliet was the ... perfection of this char... acter ever witnessed here.

All the boxes and nearly ... seat in the house have been taken for the week at advanced prices, and the engagement will be the most notable one ever played in Colorado. A reception will be tendered Mr. James and Miss Wainwright at the residence of Henry Wolcott after the performance to-night.

... for Work.

... November 21 —The British ... ambassador ... called at the department of state at noon to day, where they were met by Messrs Putnam and Angell, the A... ... assistants. They were shown into the diplomatic reception room where they were joined by Secretary Bayard. It is understood that the conference which is now in progress is preliminary in its nature, and will be confined to the arrangements of details of regular meetings.

... November 21 —Perhaps the most important conclusion reached to day was the resolution unanimously adopted to keep the proceedings secret, at least until conclusion of the work. The statement authorized by Secretary Bayard that any article that may appear purporting to tell what has been done at any meeting of the negotiators will be entirely unauthorized and must be purest speculation.

In reply to an inquiry as to whether representatives of the United States had agreed upon a line of policy for their guidance in the negotiations, Secretary Bayard said the public had been fully informed as to the position of the government in the matter. The subject, he said is two years old, as far as the administration is concerned, and over a hundred years old as regards the people of the United States. English sentiment has also been known through official publications, so there is nothing before the negotiators of which the public is not informed.

Milwaukee Beer Threatened.

MILWAUKEE, November 21 —The union breweries at the Cream City brewery refused this morning to handle any more malt for the commission malt houses. The union men declare they will force a general lockout if necessary. A card has been issued calling upon the workingmen to boycott the brewing establishments of Fred Miller, Adam Gettleman and the Cream City Brewing Co for using non-union malt. The card was ... to evade the conspiracy law. The secretary of the brewers' union says in case a general lockout occurs the American Federation of Labor will issue a boycott against all Milwaukee beer. The federation claims to have over 800,000 members. Some of the employers claim that all the brewing firms employing union men will shortly notify their men to quit the union or leave their positions.

Improvement in the Crown Prince.

... November 21. The official ... bulletin has been received from San Remo. The swelling of the crown prince's larynx has entirely disappeared. The reduction of the swelling was especially noticeable after the 15th instant, when a flaccident discharge of reddish brown color occurred. After wards a surface of new growth on the left side of the larynx, with a supplanting part and enlargement of the glottis, became perceptible. Since this a respiration has been free and swallowing entirely painless.

... November 21 - Reports are current here that the German crown prince has of late shown signs of mental depression. The minister of education has sharply reproved Prof. Storck for his recent attack on Dr. Mackenzie.

Embezzlers Sentenced.

PHILADELPHIA, November 21 —Henry Lesley and James Wilson, the embezzling secretary and ... of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal Co., plead guilty before Judge Mitchel in the criminal court to conspiracy to cheat and defraud that company of a sum aggregating $60,000, and were sentenced to solitary confinement and six years respectively in the Eastern penitentiary.

THE IRISH WORLD GIVES A VERY POOR EXPLANATION OF THE FALLING OFF IN HENRY GEORGE'S VOTE IN NEW YORK. THE FOLLOWING PARAGRAPH EXPLAINS ITSELF.

We gave our opinion again and again and yet again, that Henry George in introducing the Irish question into the canvass, had committed a great mistake. The results of the election verifies the correctness of that opinion. In the present campaign Henry George stood as the representative of labor. How, to an unknown quantity, with no interest organized, and very little popularity. All the daily press of New York were against him. The Irish World then quite, but in cordial support and but for the mistake to which we allude the Irish World would have supported him so heartily in the campaign just closed. With all the odds against him, supplemented by the secret of working politicians and scribes of every stripe, Henry George secured to the cause of labor 68,000 votes at the end of his campaign.

Henry George's second campaign really began at the close of the first—that is, last winter. But, unfortunately, it was rejected into the second campaign. For months and months he lived up to the close of the campaign not the declaration of correct principles but the Catholic church was the topic of interest. The land question was well enough in its way, and the claims of labor were well enough but the first and necessary thing was to pipe a stove pipe hat on the pope.

An excommunicated priest was found the hero of the occasion and the plan of campaign was to make every shot fell against Rome so that Jefferson would be Vicar of Christ to laugh to scorn his words and find in bloody fires upon the stake and declare that "the excommunication was illegal."

Of course no Catholic in his senses could give his indorsement to a thing with which its form and essence was arrayed against the Catholic church. Catholics were the backbone of Henry George's party and there was the fatal flaw in the platform that drove them away without thanks.

Miss Newton had many friends in this city who will be pained to learn of her death.

Our readers will no doubt remember a few weeks ago we made mention of the fact that the Electric Light company was putting wires around some of the trees in order to brace the poles. A prominent florist of the city a few days ago said: "These wires above some of the trees are doing temporary I suppose. It would be best to leave them that way. It will choke the trees while they are not growing but will when they start in the spring. Then they must have room to expand else it will kill them in course of time. If not removed the trees thus treated will die and the wire will be ruined."

Natural Gas drew a large and appreciable audience to the opera house last evening. As a mirth provoking entertainment it was a complete success. Gilbert, Donnelly and Girard are artists of acknowledged merit, and their work last evening was enthusiastically applauded. Natural Gas is overflowing with nonsense and hilarity. It has splendid panacea for melancholia and puts all who hear it into good humor. It abounds in rollicking melodies and introduces many novel and pleasing specialties. The company is a well selected one, and all the artists do justice to themselves. There was nothing coarse or objectionable in the performance and the fun and repartee was of a pleasing kind. Miss Amy Amos as Kitty Malone, and Miss Rachel Booth as Peggy, were favorites with the audience from the start. Natural Gas will be repeated this evening and delights a large audience.

There seems to be very good reason for believing that the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad has designs upon coming to Colorado Springs. The first survey which was made to this city was found to be not quite satisfactory. It crossed the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth railroad a short distance above Eastonville and approached this city by way of Templeton gap. The engineers in charge of the party believe that a less difficult route could be found by way of Black Forest and Falcon. They have accordingly crossed the range of mountains to the west and have located another line. This line crosses the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth railway about half way between Eastonville and Granger. It will then strike Sand creek and will follow the course of that stream until it passes nearly opposite Manitou, where it is reached when the line will diverge to this city, entering the town from the south, and passing around Evergreen cemetery. The officials who have the company has given to their duties certainly indicates that they are thinking seriously of extending their line to the city.
